Electrical Home Will Be Open Soon

Opportunity to inspect a real "better home electrical" will be welcomed by a multitude of people next week when the new residence just completed for G. I. Farman of the Sierra Madre Electric company will be opened at 547 West Central. In this delightful six-room house will be shown a rare combination of the art of the architect, the skill of contractors, the discrimination of decorators and furnishers, and especially the wonders of electricity for household application.

In the interest of better home building in Sierra Madre Mr. Farman has built this house and invites those interested to inspect it any day from Jan. 29 to Feb. 4. Nothing will be offered for sale, although there will be demonstrations of a number of household appliances. It is a fine opportunity to study and enjoy a finished picture of beauty, comfort and convenience. It will be worth not only one visit, but several.

Fine Cooperation

This model house shows the fine effect of cooperation throughout.
Architect R. M. Finlayson of Sierra Madre provided a most attractive design of Spanish type. This was effectively executed by the general contractor, George H. Clark. Subcontractors were H. H. Steinberger, cement work; Frank Sible, plastering; Sierra Madre Paint and Paper Store, painting; Sierra Madre Electric Co., wiring and fixtures; Sierra Madre Hardware Co., plumbing and hardware; the Blinn Lumber Co., all lumber, cement, lime, plaster, brick, etc. The decorating was done by Paul Schwenzler and the hardwood flooring by E. B. Binford, both of Pasadena.

Draperies, floor coverings and furniture, which complete the picture and make the house thoroughly alluring to home lovers, are furnished by the Birch-Smith Furniture Co. of Los Angeles, of which J. O. Smith of Sierra Madre is general manager.

Wonders of Electricity

First among the many novel impressions given by this model electrical home is the convenience with which illumination may be secured.
Upon entering the house the porch light can be turned on from the foot of the front steps, by merely kicking a little tumbler switch. It is also controlled by an inside switch.
It will never be necessary to stumble over the furniture in the dark to find a light in any room. No matter where you enter, there is a switch or fixture handy beside the door. Many of the lights, especially in corridor and porches, are controlled by 3-way switches from different points.

Master switches at convenient points control lights all over the house and grounds. A convenient switch beats a gun if burglars are around. Numerous lights placed about the grounds serve not only for artistic illumination but for every practical need. These are controlled not only by switches at the nearest door, but also by a master switch in the bedroom. One flip of this switch throws the entire grounds into instant illumination.

The wall switches are of the tumbler type. The tumbler arm is of amber colored bakelite treated with radium so as to be visible in the dark.

The illumination given by properly placed lighting fixtures is worthy of careful study. The possibility of soft, artistic general lighting, with plenty of utilitarian light where it is needed will be a revelation to most beholders.

Making Things Easier

Another feature of vast importance is the number and convenience of the outlets for attaching appliances. There will be no screwing in of old fashioned plugs, but the convenient push type only.

It is in the kitchen where the most electrical uses are concentrated. The electric range, and the convenient placing of a multitude of

MASONS WILL EAT AND BE MERRY MONDAY

Raymond Andrews is preparing a feast to be given at the club house Monday night at 6:30 for all Master Masons located in Sierra Madre which, if precedent is any indication, will be well worth the effort of coming and the 50 cents it will cost.
The charge is a new wrinkle, but a great many visitors have requested that a charge be placed on the dinners held on social nights in the future so they would feel that they had some part in the affair. In addition to the dinner, C. M. Colville, former minister, newspaper man and world traveler, will give one of his popular addresses. Mr.
Colville hails from El Monte and his services as an entertainer are much in demand.

Midwinter Class To Hold Exercises

A fitting program is being prepared by Miss Elizabeth Steinberger, principal of the Sierra Madre school, for the midwinter graduating class.
The program will be held in the Woman's Club house Friday, Jan.
30. There will be about nineteen in the class to receive diplomas this year. These pupils will attend the John Muir junior high school.

Monrovia Will Furnish Music For Vaudeville

Arrangements have been made for the Monrovia Masonic orchestra to occupy the pit for the "Romper of 1915," which will be staged by the Sierra Madre chapter of the Eastern Star, February 12 and 13. This orchestra is composed of a number of high class musicians and will be a very valuable addition to the ensemble.

Mrs. J. Milton Steinberger, who is directing the play, made a trip to Los Angeles Wednesday to see Mitzi in "The Ring Girl," the latest thing from New York, with the idea of getting new ideas for stunts and decorative effects. The committee, in the person of one member or another, has witnessed every performance of note which has come to Southern California for the last several months for the purpose of making the local Romper of 1925 the best and latest thing in the annals of vaudeville.

The "Romper of 1924" was one of the high spots of the year and for the group of performers to outdo their previous record will be an ambition which will be hard to realize, but there is little doubt in the minds of those in touch with the situation that the record will be sufficiently dimmed after the performance of this year.

Valley Orchestra Will Give Concert

The Monrovia community orchestra assisted by Ingrid Arnesen Boyd, dramatic soprano, and directed by John R. Bayley, will give another one of its popular concerts Friday evening, Jan. 30, at the Monrovia Presbyterian church. Several Sierra Madre musicians are members of this orchestra.

modern appliances lighten the burden of housekeeper and cook. The place is like a white enamelled laboratory, with the smell of good food substituted for chemicals.

Electrical laundry equipment is provided in a spacious room in the garage building, which also has room for two cars. One point Mr.
Farman has insisted upon in his choice of electrical appliances is that they shall be absolutely practicable.
There are some appliances offered which have not yet demonstrated their right to general use. He has studiously avoided anything of this type, in the effort to show how satisfactory a home can really be made by the proper application of electricity.

Fathers Have Fine Time at P.T.A. Session

"Fathers' Night" drew a full house to the meeting of the P. T. A. in the Kindergarten building last night. The program was so enlightening and enjoyable that a number of the dads joined the association and determined to come again.
Mrs. Fred Griebenow was the program chairman and Mrs. E. A. Calvert, president, presided over the meeting.

Miss Foster of Alhambra, a talented violinist, with some of her youngest pupils, rendered delightful violin solo, accompanied by Mrs. Foster.
Miss Virginia Barbour gave a whistling solo, with accompaniment by Mrs. George B. Morgridge, that was so pleasing as to call for a hearty encore.

Principal Rufus Mead, of the John Muir Junior High School was the chief speaker. He told of the growth and aims of the junior high system, into which 20 pupils from the local grammar school will be graduated next week. The junior high training covers a period of important physical and psychological development in the pupils, into which graduation direct from grammar school to high school under the old plan caused a change too abrupt for best results.

Chief aims of the junior high are guidance of the pupil in choice of advanced curriculum, or in vocational choice if he does not continue his schooling. One of its best recommendations is the greatly increased percentage of pupils who do continue their school course, by reason of careful and sympathetic guidance in choosing courses for which they have a liking and aptitude.

President Bull and Business Manager Lehrbach of the Pasadena board of education spoke briefly.
There was a lengthy discussion of the transportation problem for the junior high pupils. The Pasadena officials expressed keen anxiety to cooperate in securing the best possible arrangements. Upon motion of J. O. Smith of the local board, the president was authorized to appoint a committee to represent the P. T.
A., the Chamber of Commerce and the school trustees, who will study the problem and try to find the best solution.

Following the program a social period was enjoyed with an abundant supply of coffee and doughnuts.

Work on New Church Starts Wednesday

Contractor W. G. Schiltz started construction Wednesday on the new Catholic church building at the corner of Alegria and Baldwin avenues.
The estimated cost of the church is placed at $40,000 and it will be ready for use by about Aug. 1 of this year.

The new edifice will be built in the Romanesque style of architecture and will have an outside dimension of 48 feet by 120 feet. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of about 600. The entire building will be used for church work, the basement of the school being given over to recreational use when the new church is completed.

Until about three years ago the Catholic church numbered less than a score of families and their meeting place was a small frame chapel on a side street near the present church site. Under the able direction first of Rev. Father Woodcutter and later under Father Handley and at present Father Bennet, the church has grown until it now has a well equipped school, rectory, convent and the present church building which is now under construction. These are all housed on a large plot of land beautifully situated at the corner of Alegria and Baldwin.

A. N. Adams, who has been ill for the last several days, is able to be away from his home again.

To Establish Sierra Madre Boundary

Where Sierra Madre ends and Arcadia begins will probably be definitely known within the next few days, if the action taken by the Sierra Madre trustees Thursday night is put into effect. In the past there have been a number of private surveys made and there seems to be some difference in opinion as to where one city stops and the other begins. It is not so much a question of trying to gain more land as trying to give some away, as there is a rather expensive wash along the line near Live Oak avenue and neither city is very anxious to acquire it. However, a motion was passed by the trustees agreeing to cooperate with the city of Arcadia in establishing the line once and for all. It is understood that Arcadia has already made arrangements to do its part.

A motion was also adopted granting permission to the American Legion to move the memorial tablet from the shaft in the library yard to the east front of the Park House.
The concrete shaft will then be removed from the library yard.

The trustees ordered the license tax collector to collect city licenses from the Southern California Edison company and the Southern Counties Gas company, who were reported to be operating retail stores in connection with their public utility business.

A petition was presented, signed by the property owners of Sunnyside avenue, asking for sidewalks on both sides of the street between Central and Fairview avenues. Maps and specifications were also presented for the improvement of Victoria Lane.

New Pictures Exhibited at Club Meeting

A number of new exhibitors of art showed specimens of their work at an exhibition held in connection with the Reciprocity Day program held by the Woman's Club last week.
Included among the new comers to the field of art was Dr. Lloyd L.
Krebs, who has been painting at odd moments during the last several years, and who presented a group of fourteen landscapes in oils. They were: Alone in God's Country, Another Day, December Morn, Carmel by the Sea, Death Is Sometimes Beautiful, Smiles After the Storm, Thanksgiving Day 1924, The Passing of the Day, Just Before Snow Flies, Are We Downhearted, The Bend in the Road, The Top of the Hill, October Sunshine, The Incoming Fog.

A great many of those who saw the paintings seemed to have the idea that they were collected by Dr.
Krebs rather than produced, and it was a pleasant surprise to many of his friends to find that they were the products of his brush and imagination.

Others whose exhibits caused considerable favorable comment were J. N. Hawks, still life paintings; Harold Roberts, still life paintings and a group of original designs; Catherine S. Tuttle, a group of flower pictures in water colors. Miss Leah Fletcher exhibited specimens of book binding and Mrs. Helen Sadler Starr, hand made jewelry. Mrs.
J. Borradaile exhibited a series of decorative panels. An excellent exhibit was also presented by the Sierra Madre school children.

Mrs. George B. Morgridge held a private recital for a group of her younger pupils at her home on West Live Oak Wednesday afternoon.
Those who took part were Cynthia Hull, Loribel Stanley, Frances Glidden, Moreland Kortcamp, Percy Kortcamp, Elizabeth and Howard Morgridge. A study of Bach and a scale contest were among the features of the afternoon.

SCHOOL BOARD IS ENTERTAINED BY CLASS GIRLS

On last Tuesday evening the girls of the graduating class complimented the school board and a few friends with a six o'clock dinner. Covers were laid for twelve and the table was beautifully appointed in a color scheme of pink and white. The dinner was prepared and served by the young misses of the class under the very able direction of Mrs.
Leonard, head of the Home Economics department. The guests were enthusiastic in their appreciation both of the dinner as a perfect achievement and of this department as a factor of inestimable value in education.

TO ASSIST WITH INCOME REPORTS

Earl Stailey, a representative of the treasury department, will be in Sierra Madre on Feb. 2 and 3 to assist local citizens in making their income tax reports, according to a letter received recently by Louis D.
Berg. Mr. Stailey will be at the chamber of commerce between the hours of 9 and 4:30 on the days above named.

Local Ranch Considered for School Site

Sierra Madre at least came within hailing distance of having the Southern Branch of the University of California located within its immediate vicinity. Last week, it is reported, there was considerable agitation to have the college located on the Hastings ranch and it is understood that there is still some discussion as to its possibilities.

Upon several occasions during the last month, Charles Hastings, owner of the ranch, has been approached by persons who desired to buy the 1100-acre ranch as a site for the new school. It is understood that Mr.
Hastings was extremely favorable to the proposition but no definite agreement has been reached.

In the meantime the Pasadena Realty Board has entered the Huntington estate in San Marino as a site and it is probable that all forces in this district may combine to put this forward as the logical location of the university. The San Marino site is a tract of about 400 acres and is said to be somewhat smaller than the board of regents were expecting to use, but on the other hand, it is located close to the famous Huntington library, which it is believed will be an inducement which the board will seriously consider.

There is a difference of opinion even among residents of Sierra Madre as to whether or not the San Marino location would not be better from a civic standpoint. It being only about four miles from this city makes it convenient for those wishing to live here and attend school and would leave the Hastings ranch open for development. Those favoring the Hastings ranch point out that Sierra Madre is the ideal setting for a university and would prosper more as a university town than in any other way.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge and Mrs. Hortense Hill motored to San Bernardino Monday to visit at the home of Mrs. Hill's brother, O.
A. Peterson. Jack Peterson, who was seriously injured in an automobile wreck New Year's eve, was found to be greatly improving but suffering from facial paralysis. Mrs.
Hill did not return until Wednesday.

Robert Mitchell, Arthur T. Evans and Dennis Stovall went to Pasadena Monday night to attend a banquet given by the scout board in honor of the scout masters of the district.
Mr. Mitchell made the address of welcome and Dennis H. Stovall, master of Sierra Madre troop, was the principal speaker representing the scout masters. The banquet was held in the Vista del Arroyo.

Good Feeling Prevails in Open Forum

About 50 members of the chamber of commerce attended the forum meeting which was held in the Park House last Friday night and from all reports every one was agreed that it was a very interesting and helpful meeting though somewhat lack'g in the controversial speaking which some seem to expect at any public meeting.

The entire evening was given over to informal discussion of any topic which the members thought of sufficient interest to bring before the meeting. President Griebenow explained the purpose of the gathering in a few brief remarks and called upon several persons to talk by way of breaking the ice.

Sierra Madre Best

C. W. Jones, recently returned from a tour of the United States, responded with a statement that of all the places he visited the one that appealed to him most was Sierra Madre. Partly because it was his home, he said, and added that he believed that if it were not already his home he would want to make it his home as soon as possible. Mr.
Jones' talk was chiefly confined to the methods of beautifying cities through which he passed. He pointed out several methods which had come to his attention while away, one of them being the building of sidewalks flush with the curb, leaving the parking and trees on the inside of the walk where they could be cared for along with the lawns.

The reports that the Hastings ranch was about to be sold to the Ole Hanson real estate company entered the discussion. A representative of the company was present and informed those present that negotiations were under way and that he believed that Mr. Hanson and Mr.
Hastings would probably be able to close the deal before very long. In that event, he said, it was the plan to ask that the tract be admitted to the city and a road opened through to Pasadena along the carline.

Advertising Needed

Louis Dietz brought up the subject of community advertising. He pointed out that the All Year club of Southern California was starting a big advertising campaign through the east and middle west and that thousands of persons would soon be coming to California. He said that Sierra Madre should be making some preparations to attract these home seekers.

E. D. Burbank told of a system which was used in Honolulu for the purpose of making visitors feel at home. Every day, Mr. Burbank said, the newspapers are given a list of the new arrivals in town and their names and addresses are printed.
Various banks and business houses then write courteous notes inviting them to call and make use of their respective organizations in any way possible.

Several others present added suggestions to those given above or discussed suggestions already made, after which the meeting was adjourned and refreshments of sandwiches and coffee were served. Not the least attractive feature of the evening was the cheery log fire in the big fireplace.

CARD PARTY AT PARISH HOUSE

A card party to be given at the Parish House on Thursday evening, Jan. 29, at which dainty refreshments will be served and prizes given, is being planned by the committee in charge. As every one who attends any of the parties at the Parish House knows, a good time is in store. A small admission of 35c is all that is asked for a pleasant evening's diversion. Everybody is asked to come and bring their friends.

L. E. Steinberger, Jr., went to San Bernardino Thursday to look after some of the territory which has been assigned him in which to sell Ford wood saws.

The Sierra Madre Electric Co.

Invites You to Visit the Modern Electric Home

Opened Thursday, January 29 at 547 West Central, Sierra Madre

547 West Central Avenue
Sierra Madre, California

Open for inspection from Jan. 29 to Feb. 4, inclusive from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. to admirers of attractive homes

The Sierra Madre Electric Company announces the public exhibition of the Modern Electric Home, beginning Jan. 29, and daily thereafter until Feb. 4. The Home will be open every day from 2 to 5 p. m. and evening from 7 to 9.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Farman and various contractors and furnishers, a completely equipped modern small home is made available for the edification of the public.

The purpose behind the exhibition of the Electric Home is entirely educational, and it was designed and built merely to show what is possible in the small home of today. It is devoid of any commercial aspect and you will not be solicited to buy any of the appliances on display. Admission is free.

The Sierra Madre Electric Company planned and has installed in this home a complete and proper electrical wiring installation, which embodies the placing of the proper illuminating fixtures and of a sufficient number of electrical conveniences. Demonstrators will be present at all times to explain the use of the many electrical appliances exhibited, and to tell you how the drudgery of housekeeping may be relieved by having Electricity, the universal servant, do your work.

Anyone interested in homes, especially those who contemplate building, should not fail to see this Home.

You Will Not Be Solicited to Buy Anything already made considerable progress on this building and expects to complete it as soon as possible.

Dean William Carson Shaw, who has been ill for the last several nection with the motion picture machine at the Congregational church.

It is very hard to find one that would be suitable for use here, Mr.
Hartman says, and he had been ex-fore it could be installed. The church picture plant is now on a metropolitan basis, he says.

Sierra Madre Gardens

BY JESSIE WARD

This is to be the first of a series of articles on Landscape Gardening and practical garden hints.

These articles will be written in the interest of better gardens, which will make better and more valuable homes and taken as a whole will make a more beautiful city.

From questions I have been asked from time to time, I have a fair idea of what the amateur gardener is most in need of in the way of information, and I will try to write on these subjects besides giving some fundamental principles of modern landscape gardening.

This week I want to call your attention to the deciduous trees, shrubs, vines, grapes and berries, also roses.

These plants and trees should not be neglected now. While they are devoid of foliage they can be moved in their bare roots with safety. In the case of roses, strip all the foliage off as soon as you dig and prune off the old wood.

Deciduous fruit trees, grapes and roses should be pruned now. Flowering deciduous shrubs such as lilacs, bridalwreaths, flowering peaches etc., should not be pruned now, not until after they have bloomed in the spring.

Next week I will talk about pruning, giving the method for trees, roses, grapes and other deciduous plants.

Hybrid tea roses are so called because they bloom all through the spring, summer and fall months.
These do particularly well on the Pacific Coast. The best roses belong to this group and hence a wide range of color. The Columbia, which won the red ribbon at the county fair Dec. 5th, is a standard variety and a very beautiful garden rose, very free bloomer, flowers are large and perfect in form both in bud and blossom, a pleasing shade of rose pink, one of the most delightfully fragrant roses in existence.
A bush of this variety should be in every garden in Sierra Madre. The plants can be obtained at Ward's Nursery, also at Wilcox Nursery, Whittier Boulevard.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

THE FUMIGATION BLUFF

Who has a better right to turn bolshevik than the fruit grower? Consider his woes—some of them.

About every so often comes an inspector with a little magnifying glass, looks over the orange or lemon trees, and says "fumigate." He backs up his order by filling in a blank form telling all about the due process of law which will come down upon the head of those who do not obey.

If the lot owner questions the inspector's judgment about the need, he will take his little glass and show the bugs. He will find them on the citrus trees and likewise on the oleander, and maybe will add the nightshade weeds to the list for good measure.

Mayhap the fruit grower knows the value of fumigation. He would do it anyway, with or without orders. He has his trees fumigated in the sublime faith that the law means what the county horticultural department says it does and that the neighborhood will be reasonably rid of the scale pests.

Poor, trustful man! The fumigators do their work, collect and depart, but where? Not to the next lot where the trees are just as badly infested with citrus pests. More likely a block down the street. The fruit grower may conclude they will return soon to that adjoining lot. Maybe they do—after two or three months. Like as not, they do not come at all.

Nobody seems to know why the notices to fumigate are not enforced. Ask an officer and he passes the buck, referring you to some other official.

In the meantime the bugs multiply from these unfumigated breeding places, year after year, spreading to the property of fruit growers who fumigate either because they know it is profitable, or because they believe the law was meant to be obeyed.

Just why the taxpayers should pay for that kind of inspection and bug regulation is not easy to explain. If fumigation is to be optional with growers, why carry on the bluff of compulsory fumigation as such expense?

REAL SEEKERS FOR TRUTH

President Coolidge, Secretary Hughes and others paid tribute to those indefatigable and patient seekers for truth who were recently brought together in Washington for the annual convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

It can hardly be denied that with a disinterestedness not matched by any other class, the true scientist approaches every problem with an open mind, unfettered by prejudice. He has no ancient beliefs or superstitions to defend, no special cause to plead, no selfish interest to advance. He tries at all times to define, so far as is humanly possible, the dividing line between fact and theory, although he deals with both.

New theories are given respectful examination and if they can be proven they are assigned their places in the categories of fact. And when the scientific world in general reaches an agreement in any matter, it is the best possible evidence of its truth.

In his address to the assembled scientists at Washington, Secretary of State Hughes most appropriately said:

"We need your interest in knowledge for its own sake; your ceaseless search for truth; your willingness to discard every disproved theory, however honored by tradition, while you jealously conserve every gain of the past."

While the scientific investigator, as a rule, receives meager material rewards in return for his services to mankind, most progress, both material and intellectual, has been primarily due to his labors.

Without the leadership of inquisitive, investigating and indomitable minds, we should not have advanced far beyond the standards of the cave man.

Surgeon General Cumming declares that the average span of life in America is now 15 years longer than it was in 1870, being now about 55 years. In the seventh century an average lifetime was only about 25 years, due to the tremendous infant mortality, while it was only 35 years a century ago. If the appalling toll of death from accidents and crime could be reduced, several more years might be added to the average lifetime of this generation.

Christmas was celebrated by a brigade of "Christian" Chinese by rounding up 1,125 soldiers charged with looting and shooting them to death on a railroad bridge, their bodies falling into the river 30 feet below. These Chinamen are showing almost as much culture as was exhibited by white Christian nations during the world war.

Joseph Storey of New York predicts that his provincial home town will have 30 million inhabitants in 100 years from now, with skyscrapers 100 stories high and a network of underground streets. Maybe he is entirely correct, but it is only fair to add that he is a real estate man.

Dr. Stratton says Rockefeller's money is a curse to the Baptists. Many people would be willing to go through fire and water, too, to assist in removing the curse.

A hotel owners' association will take drastic steps to prevent guests being robbed by transient crooks. Each trade must protect its own rights.

Farm Bureau In Campaign For Members

The Board of Directors of the Los Angeles County Farm Bureau, at a meeting held at headquarters, 202 North Broadway, last Thursday, voted unanimously to hold a membership drive throughout the county during the period extending from February 3rd to February 6th, inclusive. It is the aim of the directors and officers of the organization to enroll 3000 members. The drive will be under the direction of the secretary, John C. Hays.

In speaking of the drive, Mr. Hays says he has already sold 95 per cent of the banks in the city of Los Angeles, as well as all the public utility companies operating in Los Angeles county. We hope to enlist the aid and support of all merchants, banks and chambers of commerce that are benefited directly or indirectly through the prosperity of agriculture.

Few people realize that agriculture is the greatest industry in the southland. The products of the soil in Los Angeles county last year amounted to $82,000,000, according to the statement as published by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

Two new houses are being built on the Ole Hanson tract at Live Oak and Sierra Madre avenue this week.

Institute of Citrus Men at Orange Show

The meeting of the executive committee of the Intercity Citrus Growers department of the Farm Bureau, held Dec. 17 in Los Angeles, and presided over by W. M. Mertz of Orange, chairman, outlined the principal features of the 1925 program of work. This includes desirable legislation to be sought, co-operative activities to be conducted with the Agricultural Extension Service in the different counties, and regulatory problems to be worked out in connection with the Horticultural Commissioners.

Considerable time was also spent on the program for the Citrus Institute, to be held February 24, in San Bernardino during the National Orange Show. This program will stress the importance of quality in the successful marketing of citrus fruits and the relation of certain cultural practices in securing quality. Further details of the program will be announced later.

Prospects Are Good for New Gun Club Here

That Sierra Madre may soon have a gun club seems almost assured. When the proposed range to be located in Bailey's Canyon was first discussed several difficulties presented themselves which looked as though there would be some trouble in bringing the new organization into being, but one by one these difficulties are being straightened out and success seems fairly certain.

When Billy Schwartz first brought the matter to the attention of the city officials, considerable doubt was expressed as to whether a 300-yard range which would meet the government requirements could be found in the canyon. Such a location was finally found and the question then arose whether it was on the property belonging to the city of Sierra Madre or whether to the Passionist Order. It was believed that a survey which would involve considerable expense would be necessary to establish the lines before the range could be used.

Last Sunday Billy and Tom Schwartz called on Father Peter Hanley and were given the cordial assurance that the Passionist Fathers would be glad to cooperate in every way possible with them. Permission to use this land being granted and with the permission to use the land belonging to the city, the need of a survey was thus eliminated and that a gun club will soon be formed seems entirely probable.

The government, it is understood, will furnish the arms and ammunition for such a club providing the members maintain the range. It is understood that the members of the board of trustees are all very much in favor of the starting of such an organization in Sierra Madre.

CRIMES MADE EASY THROUGH CARELESSNESS

Carelessness and stupidity on the part of the victims is responsible for much of the thieving and swindling which has reached such an alarming proportion in this country, amounting to approximately two billions a year.

Some of the specific weaknesses of our "easy marks" are pointed out by a local business man, who enumerates cashing checks for strangers, leaving automobiles unprotected, carrying unnecessarily large sums of money, buying real estate without seeing it or investigating its title, investing in stocks and schemes without consulting a banker, trying to beat gamblers at their own games, lending money and extending credit to persons of doubtful honesty, and so on.

If people fail to exercise any caution whatever in these matters, no law or official action can effectively protect them from thieves, swindlers and dead beats.

While the punishment of criminals often occurs, it usually happens too late to do the victim any good, so far as recovering his money or property is concerned.

Honest people have it in their own power to greatly reduce losses from the above mentioned causes, by merely exercising ordinary good judgment, instead of indulging in reckless practices which encourage crime.

Records Set By Business During 1925

The summary of the business activities during the past year in Los Angeles reveals a number of newly established records, according to the statisticians who are enjoying their annual revel in facts and figures.

The year witnessed the completion of public improvement programs totaling in excess of $38,000,000 in Los Angeles alone and in the same period, work was started on city and county projects which will call for the expenditure of over $69,000,000.

Office, club, loft, hotel, and apartment buildings, costing in excess of $56,000,000 were completed in the past year. Sixty-two new churches were erected at a cost of $7,307,000.

School bonds totaling $34,640,000 were voted during the year and work has been started towards the expenditure of $15,000,000 of this amount. Work has also been started to carry out extensions for the municipal hydro-electric plant, provided for in a $16,000,000 bond issue. Another $1,000,000 bridge and viaduct program has been started by the city in the past month.

Reports of the two largest industries show that a total of 230,000,000 barrels of oil were produced in the year 1924 in the Los Angeles basin, and the motion industry produced pictures costing $170,000,000.

The orange crop is estimated at $80,000,000 or $10,000,000 more than a year ago. The harbor exports, totaling $68,300,000, double those of 1923. The city has gained 700 new industries making 5800, and in the matter of population an increase of from 950,000 at the close of 1923 to 1,100,000 at the end of this year, is shown by the statistical wizards.

A. E. Bagley, physical director of the Newark, N. J., Y. M. C. A., directs the physical exercise of about 50,000 persons each morning by radio the movements being accomplished by piano music transmitted through the Newark station. Legion Helps Veterans With Compensation

Because of the effort put forth by the American Legion to inform the service man of his rights under the Adjusted Compensation Act, virtually every veteran in Sierra Madre has filed claim for the benefits of this Act, and many have already received their insurance certificates. However, the dependents of those who died in the service or subsequently do not seem to be so well informed on the subject, and many do not seem to be aware that Uncle Sam is waiting for them to file their claims so he can pay them what the law says they are entitled to receive.

The Adjusted Compensation Act defines the term "dependent" as a widow or widower, if unmarried, a child or children, or a mother or a father, and they are entitled to priority in the order named. A child of the veteran is presumed to have been dependent on him at the time of the veteran's death, if at that time such child was under 18 years of age. Both adopted children and step-children come under this class. Illegitimate children are also eligible in certain cases.

The widow or widower of the veteran is considered to have been dependent upon him or her upon their showing that they and the veteran were living together as man and wife at the time of the veteran's death.

In case of a father or mother being dependent on the veteran, a statement of dependency, under oath, is required. In this case it is only necessary that the veteran shall have contributed in some measure to the support of the father or mother. Stepmothers and stepfathers, mothers and fathers through adoption, and persons who have stood in the place of a mother or father of the veteran at least one year before the veteran began his service are all included in the term "mother or father."

Dependents receive a sum based upon the number of days' service of the veteran, this being payable in ten quarterly cash installments.

If in doubt as to your status under the Compensation Act, call up Harold F. Roberts, chairman of the service committee of the local Post of the American Legion, and he will endeavor to assist you. His telephone number is Green 145. This is part of the Legion's service to veterans and their dependents and there is no charge for it.

Vineyard Tract To Be Added To Pasadena

That Sierra Madre and Pasadena will eventually meet seems to be more certain year by year. Within a short time the city limits of the two cities will be within a mile of each other, due to an addition to the city of Pasadena known as the Vineyard addition to the north and east of the present city limits.

The new addition lies between the Sierra Madre car line, just north of Lamanda Park, and the Eaton wash. It includes several small subdivisions which have been sold during the last year, and a few smaller ranches which have been anxious to be incorporated into the city for some time.

There is some discussion, it is understood, in the Sierra Madre Villa of annexation to Pasadena, which residents of that community say will crystallize within a comparatively short time. When this move is made it will be only little more than a stone's throw between the two cities.

DATE CHANGED FOR ANNUAL IOWA PICNIC

The Iowa association of Southern California representing more than 300,000 Hawkeyes is announcing the change in date of the mammoth annual picnic reunion of the Iowans from Washington's birthday to the fourth Saturday in February each year with the following Saturday as the alternate day in case of rain.

Every Hawkeye who learns of this change is urged to pass it on to every Iowan he can reach by any means. The picnic will be held in Lincoln Park, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Leonard Plans Novel Program

An unusual and novel luncheon and program are to be given on Wednesday, Jan. 28, at the Sierra Madre Woman's club. The entire program for the day is under the direction of Mrs. Zayda Leonard, the very able teacher of Domestic Science in all its branches, at our own Sierra Madre school. Mrs. Leonard has graciously accepted this responsibility which in truth adds one more burden to her over-full days, though it is hoped that every member of the club will accept this opportunity to encourage our home talent along this important line.

Girls of the Seventh and Eighth grades will be Mrs. Leonard's able assistants and all the club members are asked to make reservations early for this luncheon so the girls may feel sure of hearty support and their enthusiasm will then kindle naturally.

The luncheon, which is absolutely free, will be served promptly at 12:30. The menu sounds so good the urge to publish it is strong. The waitresses in their white caps and aprons will be girls of the Seventh and Eighth grades who did not serve on Reciprocity day.

The Menu

Scalloped Salmon, made by girls of the 7a grade. Salmon donated by a packing company.

Rolls, made by a demonstrator for the Globe A1 flour company.

Salad, made by a demonstrator for the Mazola Salad Oil company.

Coffee, made by a demonstrator for the Ben-Hur Coffee company.

Jell-Well with whipped cream.

Dessert made by girls of the 8th grade. Jell-Well donated by the Jell Well company.

Fancy Cookies, made by girls of the Eighth grade.

Afternoon Program

Short musical program by girls of the 7th and 8th grades conducted by Miss Pfahler, instructor at the school.

Piano solo by Miss Pfahler.

Lecture on Home Economics by Kate Brew Vaughn of the Evening Express staff. Miss Vaughn is well known for her lectures along all lines of Home Economics. It is she who broadcasts every evening from a Hollywood station and many read regularly her fine articles each day in the Evening Express.

Reservations for this attractive luncheon must be in by Sunday evening so the demonstrators may be notified. Mrs. L. E. Steinberger, Sr., Phone Black 78, has kindly consented to take reservations.

Club Notes

Make your plans now to attend a dance at the Woman's club house on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14. Further details will be announced later.

Parliamentary Law Class

A preliminary meeting of Mrs. J. Osgood's class in parliamentary law was held last Monday but the first regular lesson will be next Monday, Jan. 26, at 2 o'clock, at Mrs. Osgood's home, 617 West Montecito.

Free tickets to the Wistaria Theater for readers of News Wantads. See if they are yours.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederick Myers of Long Beach spent Tuesday in Sierra Madre, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox.

H. W. Werner was the speaker at the noon luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce held at the Wistaria Tea room Tuesday. Mr. Werner is a representative of the Hoffman Hardware company and came at the request of W. S. Hull, who was chairman for the day. The program was varied from its usual form and Mr. Werner entertained with a number of amusing monologues.

Big New York Success Come To Wistaria

"Merton of the Movies," popular novel and perhaps last year's biggest success, will come to the Wistaria theater next Wednesday and Thursday in the form of a moving picture. Glen Hunter, who took the title role in the stage success, has the same stage play and the picture. In every particular the directors of the picture have succeeded in translating the humor and pathos of the play and story to the celluloid strip. While Glen Hunter is the same Merton Gill in every case.

There will be community singing and special numbers by the choir. The service begins promptly at 7:30 p. m., but you must come early to secure good seats. Bring your friends with you.

At the morning service Dr. Tate will preach and the usual talk to the children will be given. A cordial invitation is extended to strangers especially to attend this service. Come and make yourself known that we both may enjoy fellowship together.
